The Brakesman and Passengers injured

An accident happened yesterday afternoon to the half-past two o'clock St. Lawrence and Ottawa train about a mile beyond Gloucester station, by which some persons sustained injuries, but fortunately of no very serious nature. The train left the depot at the usual time under the charge of Mr. Freeman, conductor, and proceeded at its customary rate of speed until it reached the place where the mishap occurred, when suddenly the cars left the track, the through carriage to Montreal and the first class car being thrown on to their sides, and their occupants, of course, were hurled violently from their seats. The second class and baggage cars also left the metals, but maintained an upright position, and no passengers in them were hurt. The engineer stopped the train as soon as he possibly could, and the train scarcely moved more than a couple of car lengths, but the shock and jolting were sufficient to seriously alarm those on board the train, and who numbered 21 in all. Of course it is not to be expected that all escaped unscathed. Mr. T.P. French the Post Office Inspector, sustained a slight cut on the head, and Mrs. Hanlon was also hurt on the forehead; another lady passenger, whose name our reporter did not learn, was also slightly hurt, as indeed many others were in a minor degree. The worst case of injury is that to Jas . Wallace, the brakesman, who at the time of the accident was in the first class car, and was thrown violently against one of the seats, which struck him in the stomach, hurting him considerably. So soon as the news of the accident reached headquarters here, Mr. Reynolds despatched a train for the double urpose of clearing the track and transhipping the passengers and baggage, both of which were forwarded to their destinations. The first-class cars were found lying on their sides beside the rails, and the second-class and baggage cars were soon placed on the metals again and the line was put ready for traffic again. The cause of the accident was a broken rail and no blame appears to be attached to any of the servants of the company. Those who were hurt were carefully attended to and made as comfortable as the circumstances would permit. The locomotive fortunately kept the rails, and, escaped uninjured, but the two first class cars are, of course, more or less damaged.

It is a matter for congratulation that the accident was not attended with worse results, for less causes than a broken rail have frequently been attended with severe personal injury and loss of life. When the news first spread in the city, the most exaggerated stories got ahead, but careful enquiry showed the facts of the affair to be as above given.

The late fire at Renfrew

Burying the remains of two of the victims,

The mortal remains of Mr. James McAdam were interred yesterday in the family burying ground at Pakenham.

Mr. McAdam, at the time of his death, was station master at Renfrew, and was well and favorably known, not only to the employees along the line, but also to nearly everyone living along the route of the railway. Orders were given from head office that special trains should run yesterday for the purpose of conveying relatives and friends to and from the funeral.

Unfortunately the intimation that the special train was to leave the city did not reach Ottawa until Saturday afternoon when it was too late to advertise the fact in the newspapers, and the consequence was that very few city members of the Masonic lodge body attended the funeral.

Precisely at nine o'clock, however, the train left. and by the time Carleton Place was reached a large number of the fraternity were on board. Here it was joined by the train from Brockville, containing over 130 Masons, and on arriving at Pakenham the number was augmented to nearly 250.

After waiting for few minutes, the train from Renfrew arrived containing the remains of Mr. McAdam in charge of the members of the Renfrew Lodge to which the deceased belonged.

The funeral procession - details omitted

The brethren from Pembroke and Renfrew then got on board the train and proceeded to Arnprior where the funeral of Mr. James Tierney awaited them, the remains having been left at Arnprior on the way down.

The special train for the accommodation of members and others desirous of attending the opening of the Parliament, arrived at Hull at a quarter after one, having made the run from Montreal in three and a half hours including four stoppages. Mr. Duncan MacDonald, manager of the line, and Mr. Chisholm, superintendent, accompanied the party and spared no effort to provide for the comfort of the passengers. It is estimated that there will be no difficulty in making the run over the line in three hours. The road is increasing in popularity every day.

Their Excellencies took leave of the committee of management and friends at Montreal at 12.15 o'clock, the station and environs being crowded with spectators. Addresses of farewell etc. as their Excellencies entered the 1st car of the special train. As the train moved from the station the explosion of fog signals added to the enthusiasm of the occasion which will be long remembered. After a pleasant ride of half a mile (hour?) the train approached Ste. Therese where the station was handsomely decorated with flags and evergreens and a band enlivened the scene. Miss Seguin presented an address of welcome to their Excellencies who occupied chairs on the elevated platform.

Lachute. 2.30 p.m. the Governor General and Lady Dufferin arrived here at 1.45 p.m. and remained fifteen minutes. A huge crowd was present at the station. Great preparations had been made. A handsome arch was built across the track. The railway station was also freely decorated. The train moved off from the station at two o'clock amid cheers, the assemblage singing God Save the Queen.

On the arrival of the special train with the vice-regal party, which is expected to arrive by the Q.M.O. & O.R.R. about five o'clock this afternoon the Governor General will be met at the station by Mayor Graham and the Aldermen of the city and the St. Jean Baptiste Society, accompanied by the Hull Brass Band. Hull. The railroad crossing on the Gatineau Road is in a dangerous condition, on account of the bush, which is, on both sides of the road, close up to the track, it being impossible for parties driving into the city to see the cars until they are right on to the track, and on the Hull side of the road the bush prevents people seeing trains coming into the station.

On the arrival of the 3 o'clock train at the station here, yesterday afternoon, two cab drivers got into a dispute about passengers until blows were struck, and others then taking a hand in a general melee ensued. One of the crowd was badly beaten.

March 4. Loud talk was heard about the streets on Saturday afternoon, about what was to be done at the railroad station in the evening, as a result of the fight between two cabmen the night before. The police were instructed to be in attendance at the station. They found a large crowd around the depot but the sight of the brass buttons mad the would be pugilists conclude that discretion was the better part of valour, and they remained very quiet, leaving their feud until a more convenient season when the police are not so near.

Over three hundred pleasure seekers took advantage of the excursion by the QMO&O Railway on Saturday afternoon to visit the city of Montreal. They returned at about half past eleven Sunday evening.

Shortly before the excursion train left the Hull station Saturday afternoon, an unexpected flash of lightning followed by a heavy crash of thunder, startled the people waiting, over a hundred being in the road to see the train start. The lightning struck two cedars opposite the railroad gate, not fifty feet from where a crowd were standing, peeling the trees from top to bottom. The same flash knocked down a Mrs. Renaud, who was stupefied for a few minutes but soon recovered.

The work on the railway extension goes slowly but steadily on. The work of driving the piles for the construction of the road across the bay has begun in earnest and, though it is necessarily a slow process, it cannot, with the efficient force at work, take many weeks to have this portion of the work completed. It is expected that the work of grading will be begun at once on the section belonging to Messrs. T. & W. Murray - Pembroke Standard.

09/08/1878 Renfrew Mercury Canada Central Pembroke

The work of railway construction has now commenced in real earnest at this town. On Wednesday evening at exactly nine minutes to four o'clock, the pile driving scow was got into position close to the new wharf and the first pile driven solidly home. The piles are driven over 30 feet into the earth, and as the latter is of a close and solid character, it is likely that the work will prove quite a lengthy one. About twenty men are engaged in building a sort of elevated wooden breakwater to connect with the "piled" structure, on the western shore of the river. When completed this work will be seven or eight feet above the river level and will amply protect the shore at that point from the inroads of the river. We understand that Thos. Murray Esq. has secured the contract for grading the first fifteen miles of the road above Pembroke, and that he is already at work making preparations to push it forward vigorously. Messrs. Aldon and Eaton, contractors for the pile driving portion just at this town, are also evidently determined to "rush" matters with vigor. Pembroke Observer.

 A Riot in Ottawa Last Night
 The Volunteers Called out by the mayor
 Several people Shot and Wounded
 A Priest's House Attacked
 Couple of Young Britons Beaten
 Police and Young Britons
 Shots Fired in all Directions

Last night the city was considerably excited over the report that the members of the Catholic Union intended to assemble at the St. Lawrence and Ottawa Railway depot to prevent the Orange Young Briton delegation from Montreal boarding the train in a peaceable way. The matter having been reported to Mayor Bangs, he held a consultation with a number of Aldermen when it was decided, in the interests of peace, to call out the militia to be used in case of emergency. Application was made to Colonel Ross at three o'clock and one hundred men were ordered to parade at the Drill Shed, at seven o'clock under command of Lieut.-Col. White and officered as follows:- Major Walsh. Capt. Tilton, Capt. Aumond, Lieutenant Graham, Lieut. Toller, Lieut. White, and Ensign Graham. Surgeon Mallach was also on hand. At 8 30 the troops marched to the depot, accompanied by mayor Bangs, and shortly afterwards Aldermen McRae, Stewart and O'Keefe filed in an appearance. The men were drawn up in line on the platform east, of the station house with fixed bayonets, and immediately a crowd began to pour into the railway yard from Dalhousie street. In a few minutes there could not have been less than 800 or perhaps 1,000 persons present. Nothing much occurred until about 9.30 o'clock, when a general rush was made for the side-entrance to the station, where it was ascertained that a young Briton, named McGibboney, was observed to alight from a streetcar with his colors on, when he was severely jostled, but managed to get away from the crowd minus his coat and shirt. He was taken into the station house and remained there for some time. This was the only trouble that occurred at the station and the train finally moved off without the Britons, the railway authorities having received word that they had marched out to Chaudiere junction and would embark there. About 7 o'clock whilst three Young Britons were walking down York Street with three ladies, they were attacked by a crowd who insisted on their removing their colors. This they refused to do, when one of them was struck and they immediately drew their revolvers. They subsequently continued on down to Dalhousie street, followed by a mob, and on reaching the corner of Dalhousie and St. Patrick streets, were obliged to take refuge in Stratton's store, the crowd having become so boisterous. They remained there for some time until the police arrived and arrested them for carrying firearms.

After the crowd left the depot they marched through Lower Town, shouting and cheering. A Young Briton named Gavin, was attacked near the corner of George and Dalhousie streets, whilst proceeding along quickly with his sisters, and another young man was hit on the head with a brick. On learning of this the Ottawa Young Britons who had escorted the Montreal delegates out of the city, on returning, marched in a body to Lower Town, armed with revolvers and stones. On reaching the corner of Sussex and York streets, a number of men used some insulting language when they immediately fired at them, none of the crowd were injured, but a quiet inoffensive man named Giles, who was homeward bound, received a shot in the right leg, and another man, named Marks was wounded in the arm. After a large number of shots had been fired, the crowd hurried down Sussex street to St. Patrick street, firing several shots through the windows of the Revere House, but injuring no one. They marched down St. Patrick street in a noisy manner until Villeneuve's House was reached, and the first intimation the members had of their appearance was a shower of stones sent through the windows, several persons were injured. A scene of the wildest excitement ensued which was made more terrible by the firing of revolvers. The women screamed and rushed out in every direction, several fainted and were subsequently found secreted in corners and other places. The police all this time were following the crowd and made several arrests, but had not succeeded in breaking up the gang. Father Malloy's home was next attacked and several windows were broken. Then Larocque's Hotel and other places suffered, several persons being wounded. The next move was up Dalhousie street where a constant fire was kept up until the corner of George street was reached, where two others were shot and several persons struck with missiles. At this point other arrests were made and the police succeeded in breaking up the gang which scattered in every direction. The whole of lower town had by this time been awakened and the greatest excitement prevailed. The streets were soon crowded, but the police, under chief Langrell and sergeants Hornidgee and Okeife, kept moving about and before 1.30 a.m., succeeded in inducing the crowd to disperse. Before two o'clock everything was quiet and the trouble was over.

The wounded, as far as can be ascertained, are: J. Marks, shot in the arm; Gilbert Allere, Murray street, shot in the arm; W. Taylor, shot in the hand; J. Borthwick wounded in the arm; P.C. Hugh McKenna, shot in the leg; Giles, shot in the leg; Kelly, skull injured by a stone; R. O'Neil, shot in the leg; P. Conway, Beaten with a stick; P.C. Mitchell, struck with a rock; J Larocque, cut over the right temple with a stone. Mr. Williamson had a narrow escape, bullets passing through his hat; Mr. W. Bedard, whilst removing Giles to Dr. Rouleau's surgery, had a bullet whistle past his ear in too close proximity to be pleasant. P.C. Raine had a portion of his whiskers removed by a bullet.

Several other persons are reported injured, but their names are not as yet known.

The following arrests were made during the row:- Andrew Foster, Ennis Fabien Larocque, Isadore Larocque, Wm. Limbourin and S. Campbell.

Favorable progress on the railway extension continues here. The pile driver which, it will be remembered, commenced its work at the new wharf, has completed the distance between that point and the end of the street running down by the Copeland House (Prince of Wales street). The breakwater on the western bank of the river is also making good headway. It is now intended, we believe, to continue this latter work as far as the roadway leading to Thistle & Green's saw mill, the point where the "piled" portion of the road will terminate. A considerable portion of the right of way plans have been prepared for registration, after which the grading can be proceeded with irrespective of the claims of the various property holders along the line of rest; that is disputed claims of damages can not delay work on the road, and failing an amicable arrangement, must afterwards be settled by arbitration. Pembroke Observer.

The amount of unemployed muscle in this town is something marvellous to contemplate. The operations of the railway contractors are evidently a god-send to the idle community. Heretofore they could only loaf at the street corners, now they can watch the pile driver and criticize the actions of the men who run it. Pembroke Standard.

Sheriff Coutlee and Deputy Haldane, accompanied by Mr. Massey, proceeded to the Hull station of the QMO&O at ten o'clock this morning with the necessary documents to secure the premises, track and rolling stock on behalf of the government. No resistance was attempted. The sheriff demanded the keys of the various buildings and on receiving them took formal possession of them in the name of the government and handed them over to Mr. Massey as government guardian. The following notice was attached to the station house at the time the sheriff opened the door:

"Province of Quebec, District of Montreal in Superior Court.

Duncan MacDonald, petitioner, plaintiff against the Hon. H.G. Joly and Peter A. Peterson, defendants.

We hereby certify that a writ of injunction has this day been issued from this court, ordering the defendants to desist and abstain from further intrusion and interference on the line of railway and accessories, and with the station agents, clerks, locomotive and train hands, sectionmen all other servants or men employed by Duncan Macdonald, under pain of being in contempt of this court and treated accordingly.

(Signed) Herbert, Honey, Gebdron, Prothonotaries."

After the seizure Mr. Massey asked Mr. Gouin the station agent if he would take charge of the station on behalf of the government and on his replying in the affirmative the keys were given to him and he will act under the instructions of Mr. Massey.

Mr. Ogilvie, the Baggage-master, Crawford, the foreman of locomotives, Mason, a carpenter; and McDonald, the switchman were also employed on behalf of the government. No freight will be allowed to leave the freight shed before Monday. Trains may not run for the next eight or nine days. The sheriff and deputy, with Mr. Massey, have left to seize the different stations below Hull.

THE M., O. & O.R.R. CONTROVERSY

No arrangements arrived at - Meeting between the Premier and Mr. Duncan Macdonald, contractor of the road - wide apart views - An injunction granted and writserved against the Government party

The attempt of the Hon. Mr. Joly to obtain possession of the M., O. & W. Railway, just on the eve of the Dominion general elections, excites considerable attention, and has given rise to not a little comment of an adverse tenor, so far as concerns the ministry of the hon. gentlemen who constitute the Government. It is claimed by many that the Hon. Mr. Joly is acting in the matter at the suggestion of the Hon. Mr. Mackenzie, who recognizes in the patronage inherent in the railway an engine to be used in the coming elections; this a conclusion doubtless reached when procedure extant upon other Government railways is considered. Mr. Joly denies that the elections have any thing to do with the attempt to seize the railway. The contractor's assertion is the contrary, however, and the public can judge whether there was not time enough before this for the demand to have been made; more forcible does it appear when the reader considers the Premier's "welcome news" to the East End electors that they are going to have the depot within the city limits, and this told at a Grit election meeting. How ever that may be, the proposition made to Mr. Macdonald by the Premier brought about a meeting between the parties yesterday, and the result of the conference is that Mr. Macdonald refused to surrender the road until his claims had been paid, and after some farther conversation the parties separated.

LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

The contractor, Mr. Macdonald, through his solicitor Mr. Doure, Q. C., then took legal measures to prevent any further interference, which are explained as follows:-

Duncan Macdonald, petitioner, plaintiff against the Hon. H. G. Joly, personally, and as Minister of Agriculture and Public works for the Province of Quebec, and Peter A. Peterson, of the city of Montreal, civil engineer, defendants. The petitioner, after relating the contracts made by him with the M. O. & W. R. Co., and with the Quebec Government, avers that he has done all that could be expected from him in the execution of his contracts; that, after the appointment of railway commissioners he has been interrupted and delayed over twelve months at a time for plans and instructions concerning some bridges or other details of the work, these delays being caused by the malicious combination of the railway commissioners with the Government engineer, the said P. A. Peterson, to arrest and injure the plaintiff; in the execution of his works, he has spent money to such an extent that the Government is now in his debt in a sum exceeding $1,000,000; that the undertaking by the plaintiff, to complete his works by the 1st of October 1877, implied the obligation on the part of the Government to do all that was expected from them in the execution of their part of the contract; that, instead of paying him the value of his work in monthly estimates and instalments, as they had agreed to do, they have failed to pay him any money since the month of November, 1877, and have ever since refused either to pay or adjust his accounts by arbitration or otherwise; that on the 26th August, instant, the Government had served upon plaintiff a notice intimating that the Government had cancelled his contract, and requesting him to hand over the line of railway, with the branch to St. Jerome, with accessories, such as rolling stock, &c., and that on the 28th of this month they distributed a notice to the employees of the plaintiff, threatening them with dismissal from service if they should aid in any way the plaintiff in withholding the possession of the road from the Government. The petitioner avers that everything connected with the railway, rolling stock, &c., is his property and is in his possession, and that he is entitled to an order enjoining the defendants to desist from intrusion and interference with his affairs concerning said railway, and with his employees and servants.

The petition was presented to Mr. Justice Rainville, who ordered the issue of the writ, with the injunction, as above, returnable on the 3rd of September next; the writ only to be issued after security being given for $600, or a deposit for the same amount in the hands of the prothonotary, to answer for damages and costs resulting from the issuing of the writ. The deposit was immediately made, and the writ issued and served. This procedure is in conformity with the requirements of an Act of the last session of the Quebec Legislature.

will commence to-day, and will continue at least until the 3rd inst., which is the date on which the writ is made returnable. What phase matters may thereafter take, the future will unfold as it comes to pass.

Sheriff Coutlee of Ottawa County, assisted by the Deputy Sheriff, this morning seized on the depot and plant of the Q.M.O. & O. R.R. at Hull. This is owing to the present difficulty with the Government.

02/09/1878 Ottawa CitizenQMO&OSte. Therese

Detachments of the Montreal Garrison Artillery, altogether some 300 men, were called out by order of the Quebec government, and put in possession of the Occidental Railway at Hochelaga, Mile End and Ste. Therese. Mr. Macdonald had run off all the rolling stock belonging to the road into a sand pit at Ste. Therese owned by him where the locomotives were dismantled and put under a guard of 200 or more men.

1 p.m. Sheriff Rouselle, under protection of the military, between 8 and 9 o'clock this morning seized the station, offices and all the plant belonging to the Occidental Railway at Ste. Therese, including the locomotives in Mr. Macdonald's sand pit. The locomotives have been put out of running order but the pieces which had been hidden have been found and already several locomotives are on the track. No resistance was offered by Mr. Macdonald's men.

SEIZING A RAILWAY

The Premier Mfr. Joly orders out the troops. The railway seized at both ends. Battery, the Sixty-fifth and Sixth Fusiliers regiments and Montreal Brigade of Garrison Artillery called out. The public during the past few days have heard something about the controversy between the Quebec Government and Mr. Duncan Macdonald, and the latest phase of the case up to Saturday night was that published in The Gazette of Saturday morning, announcing that an injunction had been granted by the Hon. Judge Rainville restraining the Hon. Mr. Joly, Premier of the Quebec Government, and Mr. P. A. Peterson, Chief-Engineer of the Government, from interfering with the road.

Fancied Security

The writ was made returnable on the 3rd inst., and was served upon the above named gentlemen. It was thus concluded that the obstacles to traffic were removed, and that passengers could proceed to their destination. With this understanding and object a train was despatched early on Saturday morning. It did not get further than Mile End Station, however, and here remained, as Mr. Peterson, acting under instructions from the Government, seized the road at Hochelaga.

Fears of Resistance

Resistance is said to have been feared at Mile-End Station, and at 7 p. m. on Saturday ten men - the detachment of B. Battery from St. Helen's Island - were ordered to march to the Mile-End and take possession. At the same moment an order was in the hands of Lieut.-Colonel Fletcher to furnish to Mr. Peterson two hundred men from the Volunteer force in Montreal, or as many more as might be required. Accordingly the commanding officers of the 65th Rifles, the 6th Fusiliers, and the Montreal Garrison Artillery were ordered to furnish each 60 men. Meanwhile it transpired that the sheriff, in the name of the Government, had seized the line at the Hull end of the route, and that Mr. Duncan Macdonald had collected a large force of his employees, armed them, collected all his rolling stock, and having placed the whole in a siding beyond Ste. Therese, known as the gravel pits, was determined to resist any further interference. As the gravel pits are in a naturally fortified place, two hundred men, well armed and determined, could hold it against any odds.

THE VOLUNTEERS CALLED OUT.

For this reason, it was determined to send the main body of the Volunteers thither. Accordingly, as soon as possible the train, which had been in waiting all day, was made use of and additional cars coupled to accommodate the troops. It is no easy matter to procure volunteers at half-past seven on a Saturday night, and it was half, past eleven when the quota from Col. Martin's Sixth Fusiliers marched into the depot at Mile End, commanded by Capt. Blacklock having trudged the whole distance from the City Hall. They had reached within a mile of their destination when the rain commenced to fall, and by the time they had gone half a mile farther were making headway through a blinding storm of wind and rain. They were in heavy marching order, and suffered severely from want of water, there being lots of it outside but none at the station. The men of the Sixty-fifth arrived about the same time, under command of the Major, accompanied by four officers. Mr. Peterson welcomed the troops very warmly, and hurried them on board the train. Mr. Louis Perrault was left as the magistrate in charge of the Mile End Station, and accompanying Mr. Peterson on the train was Mr. Louis Lamontagne, in order to act in case an attack were made on the train.

ALL SORTS OF RUMORS

were prevalent, as to the track being torn up and demolished, so that it was at slow speed the train progressed. A force of 60 men and four officers from the Montreal Garrison Artillery was ordered to Hochelaga, and took possession of the station at that point, while the force of ten men at the Mile End was reinforced by Lieutenant Nelson, of the Sixth Fusiliers, and a force of 16 men.

ATTEMPT AT SEIZURE AND A REPULSE.

It was said that the Sheriff of Terrebonne had made the seizure on Saturday, or had attempted to do so, but was repulsed by armed men, presumably in the employ of the contractor, Mr. Macdonald. This repulse is said to be the reason for the Government calling out the volunteers.

THE SITUATION

yesterday morning was : The Government in possession of each end of the road, the contractor in possession of the rolling stock at Ste. Therese sand-pits, guarded by about two hundred men, armed with revolvers and axes, etc. Watching these men were some 130 men of the Sixth Fusiliers and Sixty-Fifth regiment, who now await the result of this morning's negotiations.

THE GOVERNMENT'S VIEWS

may be stated on uncontrovertible authority to be :- They consider that they are entitled to the road, and must have it. They have endeavored to get peaceful possession, but must have possession, and should resistance be offered, the responsibility will remain with the contractor and his party. Force will be used if necessary, but the display of well-armed and numerous troops will overawe any attempts at resistance, and the matter may be adjusted by Mr. Macdonald submitting under protest.

OFFERING A COMPROMISE.

It is true that at the meeting on Thursday last between the Hon. Premier and Mr. Macdonald, the latter was offered the amount which he claimed as his earnings, $5,000 per month, if he would allow the Government to take possession - that amount to continue until arbitration should settle the contractor's claims, and be then deducted out of the amount awarded. This statement is as curious as it is true, in view of the plea for the Government that the contractor has been paid $850 in excess of his contract. With reference to the writ of injunction on the Hon. Mr. Joly and on Mr. Peterson, the pretension of the Government is that the Public Works Act and the contract with Mr. Macdonald expressly stipulate that the Government shall at any time have power to step in, stop the road and take possession provided the contractor does not fill the conditions of his contract. It is of course denied that the present movement on the part of the Government has anything to do with the elections, or that the patronage of the road is to be diverted to the support of the Mackenzie-Cartwright policy at the elections. The public will be the best judges of that, however.

REINFORCING THE TROOPS

All day, until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, the Hon. Mr. Joly and Hon. Mr. Marchand were at the Government offices, and with view to overawe Mr. Macdonald's men, it was decided to call out an additional force of volunteers. Accordingly Col. Fletcher, C.M.G., D.A.G., was ordered to call out more men and to proceed at once with them to Ste. Therese. At half-past twelve an order was given to Col. Labranche of the Sixty-Fifth, to call out his entire regiment, and at 6 o'clock that indefatigable officer was ready with a force which raised the numbers of his regiment in active service to 200 men. The Sixth Fusiliers, also, had largely reinforced their men, while the detachment at the Mile End station, under Lieut. Nelson was relieved by Lieut. Hood, and Lieut. Gray, in charge of his detachment, was in waiting to proceed by train to reinforce the command of Laplaie Blacklock at Ste. Therese.

THE PLAN OF OPERATIONS

is for Col. Fletcher to command the attack at Ste. Therese, should one be deemed necessary; for Col. Bacon to proceed thence to Hull, and leave a detachment at the different stations on the line of road. Col. Harwood has been telegraphed to come to Montreal and assume command in the absence of Colonels Fletcher and Bacon, and until then Col. Martin, of the Sixth, the senior officer of the Fifth District here, will take command and be in readiness to further reinforce the troops now in service.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM OUR OWN REPORTER

Ste. Therese, September 1

The last detachments of the 65th Mount Royal Rifles, and 6th Fusiliers arrived here this evening, and were billeted in various parts of the village in the hotels and buildings which could be procured for the purpose,

A RUDE RECEPTION.

A tremendous crowd of people met them at the station, and quite a number made use of insulting and threatening language. Knots of men assemble on the sidewalk and discuss the question in such a manner that it is quite evident that they are supporters of Mr. Macdonald. The greatest excitement prevails throughout the whole village. Lieut.-Col. Fletcher arrived this evening, and has assumed command of all the military in the place, consisting of 150 men and officers, 105 of the 65th Mount Royal Rifles and 45 of the 6th Fusiliers. The contractor is said to have 300 more men, of which 150 are in the village. Upwards of 150 or 200 are in the sand-pit, two miles west of here, and are said to be armed with guns, revolvers, &c. A branch line has been run into the pit, and all the engines, numbering ten, and a large number of cars, have been run into it. The engines have been dismantled and the parts hidden. They have also a hand car in their possession, and squads of ten or a dozen come to the outskirts of the village and cut through the fields to some houses, where they get their meals. Several of these men have openly acknowledged that they will oppose the step that the Government is taking.

AN ARREST.

Mayor Lapointe arrested Marshal, one of the foremen, this afternoon, for insulting some of the officers and men. He was kept in for a few hours and allowed to go. Mr. Loranger and Aid. Laberge, of Montreal, are here.

THE LATEST.

The military will form in procession to-morrow at seven o'clock, to proceed to the station, of which they will take possession, and a guard will be left. They will then proceed to the sand-pit and the Sheriff will demand the surrender of the rolling stock &c If they refuse the Sheriff will call upon the Magistrate, who will also demand the surrender of the rolling stock, and if they again refuse, he will call upon the military to assist the civil powers and the matter will be left entirely in the hands of the commanding officer. Mr. O'Brien, the paymaster, stated that the men are not armed, and that it is not their intention to fight. They will retain possession as long as they can, but respect the law too much to forcibly resist. Their object is to resist until some of the men are arrested and then have a test case at law. From present indications it is altogether likely that there will be a big disturbance.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM OUR OWN REPORTER.)

Ottawa, September 2. - At three o'clock this afternoon a special train containing 12 men and a Lieutenant, left Ste. Therese for Hull. Most of the stations on the line were closed and no one in attendance. It was anticipated that the track would be obstructed by Mr. Macdonald's men, but neither the track nor train was interfered with. On their arrival at Papineauville Station they were met by Sheriff. Contlee of Aylmer, and Mr. Massey, assistant Government chief engineer, both of whom had driven in a carriage from Hull and taken possession of all the stations between that place and Papineauville. They took possession of the Hull Station on Saturday morning, and left it in charge of 20 special Constables. At Papineauville, the Sheriff and Mr Massey got on board the train and returned to Hull. No resistance was offered when they took possession of the stations, but the greatest excitement prevailed. At five o'clock this evening, another special train left St Therese with 40 men and officers under Lieut-Col Fletcher. They were accompanied by the Sheriff of the District of Terrebonne, who took possession of all the Stations between St Therese and Papineauville. Six soldiers were left at each station on the line. The train arrived in Hull at 11 p.m. amid much excitement. The military are stationed in the hotels near the station. No row is anticipated, and it is probable that the military will return to-morrow morning. The Government has now full possession of all the road and trains will be run regularly after to-morrow.

THE M. O. & W. RAILWAY.

The act of the government yesterday at St. Jerome and Ste. Therese - The railway in their possession.

The action of the Government in calling out the troops in Montreal caused no end of comment on the streets yesterday, and was discussed from all points of view and by persons persons of all shades of politics. The opinion generally expressed was that the Government acted rather hastily in the matter, and few could be found who would have believed that the Hon. Premier, in face of an injunction from the Court, would have participated in or permitted such action to be taken. The whole matter is contrasted with the action by the Dominion Government in possessing themselves of the Crystal Palace - an event fresh in the minds of readers of the daily press. Many ask the question, why was the military force called out until the civil power had proved inadequate, and in answer to this we may state that this troops were called out by Lieut.-Col. Fletcher in answer a requisition signed by four magistrates, Messrs. Louis Perrault, Louis Lamontagne, Napoleon Lefebvre, Charles Meunier. A Gazette reporter had an interview with Mr. Perrault, and in answer to the question whether the civil power had been set at defiance, that gentleman said not to his knowledge, but that these magistrates had at the request of the Hon. Mr. Marchand signed the requisition calling out the troops. The Government wanted them, and they, as magistrates, had agreed to sign the requisition. Mr. Perrault had also remained at the Mile End all night of Saturday to read the Riot Act, so that the troops could fire upon the mob if attacked There was, however, no signs of a mob.

A SEIZURE EFFECTED IN STE. THERESE

Early yesterday morning the volunteers commanded by Col. Fletcher, comprising the Sixty-fifth under Col Labranche, and the Sixth Fusiliers, under Capt Blaiklock. were placed at the disposal of the Sheriff and proceeded first to the station, which was taken possession of. The Volunteers then started for the sand-pits, but no resistance was made, and the sheriff captured seven locomotives and a large quantity of rolling stock. It was then decided to send on a detachment to St. Jerome, and to picket the other stations along the line of railway to Hull with Volunteers, this duty being assigned to Lieut-Col Bacon.

THE GOVERNMENT'S INTENTION is to commence this forenoon the running of the usual trains, and they hope that no interruption interruption will hereafter occur to the traffic of the road.

THE MILITARY FORCE

at Hochelaga consists of a company of the Montreal Garrison Artillery, while at Mile End is stationed a detachment of men from the Sixth Fusiliers, the men of B Battery, recently quartered at the Island, having also been kept at the station.

LEGAL PROCEEDINGS.

In the Superior Court, Judge Johnson presiding, a motion was made on behalf of Mr. Duncan McDonald, contractor, by his attorney, Mr. Doutre, Q C, asking that Mr. Peterson, one of the defendants, and Hon. Mr. Chauveau, sheriff of this district, be declared in contempt of Court.

Mr. Carter, Q. C, claimed on behalf of Mr. Chauveau that sufficient notice of the motion had not been given, and that copies of the affidavits on which the motion was based had not been served with the notice. It was impossible to answer an application based on affidavits, copies of which had not been served. On behalf of Mr. Peterson, he argued that the service was made on Saturday last, which did not allow that intervening time required in matters of this kind.

Mr. Doutre contended that the notice had been given in sufficient time, under Article 24 of the Code of Civil Procedure. As to the affidavits, Mr. Carter represented both parties, and therefore did not require to have two copies of the affidavits furnished to him, the same affidavits applying to each case.

Judge Johnson ruled that, as respected the notice of motion, the time given was quite sufficient; but with regard to the question of affidavits, the fact that the one counsel acted for both parties did not do away with the necessity of giving copies to each, since either might wish to consult other counsel. He ordered, therefore, that this motion be enlarged until Wednesday morning, until Mr. Chauveau can have communication with the affidavits with which the motion for contempt was served. Mr. David A. Boss, Attorney-General of the Province of Quebec, was present during the proceedings.

A WRONG IMPRESSION

exists as to the cutting of the wires of the Dominion Telegraph Company. It was supposed this had been the work of the Macdonald party, but it now transpires that the Government ordered it in order to keep the contractor from communicating with the men at St. Therese. What the Dominion line will charge for the use - or rather the abuse - of their wires will be matter for the Company to arrange with the Government hereafter.

THE QM, M., O. & O. RAILWAY INJUNCTION

Mr. Peterson adjudged guilty of contempt.

There was a large attendance in Court this morning. Punctually at 11 o'clock the Hon. Judge Johnson took his seat and delivered the following judgment:- Macdonald, plaintiff; vs Joly, et al. defendants; and Chauveau and Peterson, mis en cause.- In this case a motion to commit Peterson, one of the defendants, and also Mr. Chauveau, the Sheriff, for contempt in disregarding an injunction, was made and answered on Friday, the 6th, and part of the answer then made by both of these gentlemen depended upon a question which they raised by a motion to revise the order of Mr. Justice Rainville, upon which the injunction was issued; and the grounds urged for revising it were substantially that it had been improvidently issued, because the proceedings complained of in the petition for injunction were taken under an order of the Executive Council of the Province, made in pursuance of the authority given by the Provincial Act. 32 Vic, chap. 15, having reference to the resumption, under certain circumstances, of public works. The papers were put before me the following day (Saturday), and I had but a very short time to look at them, and on Monday I requested the counsel to speak to a point that had presented itself to me, and counsel were heard upon that point the day before yesterday. I have now, therefore, to give judgment on the motion for contempt and on the answer that is made to it; and first as to the motion to revise the order for injunction: I am of opinion that the motion cannot be granted, and therefore that that part of the answer made to this proceeding for contempt fails. I do not regret the discussion that took place the day before yesterday as to whether the Act of 1869, c. 15, gave the Provincial Government power over any but provincial works, because too much light cannot be thrown upon so important a subject; but I observed to counsel then, and I must observe again now, that I am concerned only at present with the proceedings for contempt; and as regards the question whether a contempt has been committed. It is immaterial whether a good defence can ultimately be made to this injunction or not, the question at this moment being only whether this order, on the face of it, is such a nullity (as a necessary conclusion from what is alleged in the petition) that it could be treated as if it had no existence; because if the learned Judge saw on the face of this petition that it was averred, and sworn to, as it undoubtedly was, that the company from which the Quebec Government purchased being a Federal corporation had no power to sell, and the Quebec Government no power to buy; and if he further saw, as he might have seen, that in another case to which the Quebec Government was itself a party, it had been held that they had nothing, at the very utmost, but proprietary rights in this railway after it had ceased to be a provincial work, and had changed its character into a federal railway, it will hardly be contended that, under such circumstances, he ought not to have granted the injunction; indeed, it appears plain that the learned Judge, who is known to be one of the most accurate and painstaking judges on the Bench, would have violated his duty if he had refused it; for, after all, whether Mr. Macdonald's asserted rights ultimately prevailed or not was not the question; whether those rights involve, as he asserts, over a million of dollars, or whether it ultimately turns out that he has nothing to lose, makes no difference. There was one right that he clearly had when he asked for that order a right common to the wealthiest contractor and the humblest laborer on the line, both exactly to the same extent, neither more nor less and that was the right to be heard, and to have his case heard, and to make those of whom he complained come and answer both, and show their right, if they had any; and he got that right acknowledged, and properly acknowledged; and those to whom the injunction was addressed might have come and answered him, and have exercised their undoubted right also of being heard; but, instead of that, it is asserted that they set themselves above the law, and therefore the question now is whether this was a legal injunction prima facie to be regarded and obeyed, or whether these gentlemen, without giving themselves the trouble to come and answer it at all, could disregard and disobey it,- in one word, whether the authority of the Queen, conveyed in the usual form of a writ, under the seal of her Court, can be overpowered by the mere brutal assertion of force. I say that is the question now, and so on the clearest grounds it is the question, if there is to be in this country such a thing as liberty under the - the law. It is indeed conceivable that the rights of the executive administering different departments of the Government for the public may have been vested in them in a different form, as regards the mode of their exercise, from those of individuals; but the exercising of those rights must be subject to the law of the land, and it appears to me that in a country possessing at least some of the essential forms of the English political constitution, it ought to be obvious to every one that there is and can be no power that is not in some shape amenable to the law, or that can venture, at least as far as the instruments of that exercise are concerned, to set the supreme authority of the laws at defiance. It is clear, therefore, under this view of the case, that it would be equally premature, at this moment, to say anything as to the ultimate validity on the one hand of this writ of injunction, or on the other of the Lieutenant-Governor's warrant that may be opposed to the injunction on the merits. All that we are concerned with now, having once ascertained the legal existence of the writ, will, therefore, be the facts that constitute the contempt complained of, and those that constitute the answer to it. These facts are, as far as the Sheriff is concerned, distinctly traversed; and I think fairly and successfully traversed. All that was done by that officer was done previously to his getting notice of the requirements of the writ. In Mr. Peterson's case, however, the matter stands very differently. He does not traverse the facts at all; but merely justifies them by setting up a warrant and saying that he acted in obedience to it. As far as regards Mr. Chauveau, therefore, the plaintiff will take nothing by his motion for contempt against him and it will be dismissed, but without costs. In the case of Mr. Peterson, though I have said, and still say, that as a matter of law his position is a very grave one, I should be sorry to believe that that was the light in which the matter presented itself to him, for he says he acted under advice, and the circumstances were undoubtedly such as would impose upon him. Although, therefore, he may be without excuse in law, there may have been much to excuse him in point of fact, and the judgment I am about to give is one that will be suited to the singular circumstances of the case. This gentleman seems to have had everything on his side except the law, and that was clearly against him. The law is supreme, and, unless we are in a state of anarchy, it must be so held and regarded by all men, and they can only disregard it at their peril. The law, in this case, received its clearest expression in the terms of the writ that Mr. Peterson had seen, and that writ told him and all concerned to stop for the present, and to come before before the Court and make proper answer to it, where they could be heard and their rights decided. It cannot, in a civilised, community, admit of doubt that it was Mr. Peterson's duty to obey this writ. The judgment of the Court upon this motion is, that Peter Alexander Peterson is adjudged guilty of contempt; and, as regards the punishment for his offence, the Court reserves to itself to pronounce hereafter, and it is further ordered that he enter into his own recognizance in the sum of $1,000, to be and appear in his own proper person before this Court whenever he shall be called upon by a twenty-four hours' notice in writing so to do - then and there to receive the judgment of the Court in his own person, or (if he shall make fault to appear) in his absence and that he pay the costs of the present motion.

Mr. Doutré, Q.C., asked to add to his petition, that Mr. McDonald be reinstated in possession of the road.

Mr. Carter, Q.C., said that would be adding a writ of mandamus to the writ of injunction. injunction.

Mr. Doutré, Q.C., said both writs meant the same thing.

His Honor took the motion en delibere.

Fatal Railroad Collision

National Associated press to the Star.

Morrisburg, Ont., Oct 4. An accident occurred here early this morning on the Grand Trunk Railway, by the up express running into an up freight train. Some cars on the express, with nine freight cars and two engines, were badly damaged. An employe of the road named Picard, of Brockville, was instantly killed. No other serious injuries are reported.

Accident on the Grand Trunk - at an early hour this morning an accident occurred on the Grand Trunk Railway, resulting in the death of one man and slight injuries to several others. A very large train, drawn by two locomotives, conveying the excursionists from the boat race, was approaching Morrisburg station. As usual speed was slackened, the train running at about six miles an hour. By some mistake it got on the wrong track, and ran into another train of cars standing without an engine. The cars were smashed and the first locomotive was upset. The engineer jumped off the train, but another man, belonging to Brockville, whose name was unknown, was crushed by the locomotive and was instantly killed. The express car was also smashed and the goods strewn about the track. It is a very fortunate thing that the train was proceeding so slowly, as had it been going at full speed a fearful massacre would likely have ensued. A considerable number of Kingstonians were on the train, but none of them was injured.

Accident on the Grand Trunk.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM A TERRIBLE DISASTER.

One Man Killed, - No One Else Injured

Prescott, Ont., 4th. The express train from Montreal last night ran into a freight train at Morrisburg. Several freight cars were completely smashed, and the engine on the express was thrown from the track and utterly demolished. A man named Thos. Pritchoro, of Brockville, an employee of the Grand Trunk Railway, was killed. The deceased was on the engine. The driver and fireman jumped from the train when they realized their danger, and escaped unhurt. The train consisted of seventeen cars, whose passengers were nearly all excursionists on their way home from the boat race. A number of Ottawa people were aboard, but no one was hurt with the exception of the man Pritchoro. The train had slackened speed as it was approaching Morrisburg station, and to this may be attributed the absence of a most serious accident. There is no positive evidence as to who is to blame. An inquest to be held on Pritchoro to-day will bring out the facts. The Ottawa excursionists will arrive at four o'clock.

Morrisburg, 4th. About two this morning the express train No. 4 going west ran into freight train No. 21 also going west. It appears the freight train was too long for the siding, and by some means the steam brakes on No. 4 would not work. One man, an employee of the Company, named Pritchoro of Brockville, was killed, and one engineer on No. 4 slightly scratched. No. 4 was a heavy train, with two engines. It seems a miracle to see engines, tenders and cars so smashed up without more loss of life. An inquest is pending.

At last the residents of Aylmer are quite satisfied that they will hear the "grunt of the iron horse" echoing through their town. A gang of men are now engaged in laying the rails between Hull and Aylmer and there is every prospect of the work being completed immediately. They may therefore expect trains to be running into the town in the course of a month. Whether the work will be extended beyond that point is not known at present.

On Saturday afternoon two streetcars met on a single track at the New Edinburgh bridge. No. 1 wanted to know why No. 2 didn't switch off at the proper place, No. 2 asked the very same question. A wordy warfare followed, both drivers expressing the intention of spending the whole night on the bridge rather than take a back seat. About this time things began to become beautifully interesting for the passengers, and they awaited the grand finale with the utmost curiosity. Five minutes passed and not a car budged; ten minutes and not a blow was struck; fifteen minutes and not a sign of reconciliation; twenty minutes and the passengers began to leave one by one; thirty minutes and both cars were deserted and the conductors sat on the railing of the bridge, sneering most painfully and hurling epithets at each other. Whilst engaged in this pastime a road official came up and heard their grievances. He considered that both were right. A few minutes later two street car conductors again sat on the railing of the bridge, but this time in silence, for their occupation was gone; they had created a vacancy for someone else.

In an interview with the Superintendent of the Occidental Railway today, it was learned that the contractor for the completion of the ballasting, Mr. Gibson, is pushing forward his work. He has now two ballast trains actively engaged between Grenville and Papineauville., and one between Gatineau and Thurso. New station houses are now under construction along the line, and will be opened next month at the following points: - St. Augustin, Ste. Rose, Lachute and East Templeton. The rolling stock has just been put in thorough and efficient repair for winter service, and snow ploughs and all the requisites for encountering a severe winter are now on hand; two new snow ploughs of a superior make will be delivered next month. Fresh contracts have been entered into for the conveyance of large quantities of lumber for shipment to South America, and this, together with the increased passenger traffic the past month, has necessitated the putting on of additional cars. - one new baggage and post office car besides a new locomotive from the Kingston works having arrived on Wednesday last, while several new freight cars are ready for delivery. The Company's freight cars have been built by the Messrs. Crossin [sic] of Coburg, and the London, Ont., Car Works and the passenger cars by the Patten Car-Company of Maine, and also the London Car Company. The road appears, taken in all, to be in good hands. - Witness.

15/11/1878 Renfrew Mercury Canada Central Pembroke Gauge change

The first rails of the western extension of the Canada Central Railway were laid on Wednesday last, and the track is now in running order from where it branches off below the station to the lakeshore. Five new platform cars for the extension arrived here on Saturday evening last and as they are built for the "narrow gauge" they had to be hostled out to other cars to be brought from Brockville here. The Canada Central is, we believe the only wide gauge railway now in Canada, and it seems that it is the intention to change it to narrow gauge, which is the preferable one. The portion of the track already laid has two rails on one side so as to suit either gauge, but it is likely only a temporary arrangement. The bridge across the bay is now almost finished with the exception of the spans where the spaces are left streets, and Messrs. Murray are vigorously prosecuting the work of filling and cutting, which is very heavy along the main road. A great portion of the road further up is all graded and ready for the rails, which will likely be laid in a few weeks. Pembroke Standard.

He has completed, since commencing work in October, about twelve miles of the road, the worst places being repaired first, before winter set in. Mr. Gibson has 250 men employed and four locomotives, with ballasting trains, with which the work is rapidly being pushed to completion. In some places it has been found necessary to lift the track two feet. Mr. Gibson has also secured the contract for ballasting the road from Hull to Aylmer, and as soon as the Government has the road laid, will commence the work.
