16/01/1940 Ottawa Citizen Chaudiere Ottawa, Gladstone avenue

Skidding on the icy roadway of Gladstone avenue near the Standard Bread Company plant, an automobile in charge of Albert Eardley, 61 Victoria Street, Toronto, crashed into the second last box car of a C.N.R. freight train on the railway tracks at 2.25 o'clock this morning. The driver suffered a slight cut on the nose and was given first aid treatment at No. 2 police station. About $200 damage was done to the car. The train, in charge of Conductor K. Sullivan, 132 Third Avenue and Engineer Walter Aaron, 98 Lees Avenue, was travelling south with a string of empty box cars and had almost crossed the intersection. The automobile was traveling east on Gladstone Avenue down a slight grade. The tracks at this crossing are not protected with an automatic signal device, and Eardley told the police that he did not see the signal device until his car was almost upon it. He then applied his brakes but the car skidded on the icy grade and into the train. Constables E. Connolly and S. St. Louis were sent to the scene and drove Eardley to the police station on Fairmont Avenue where they treated his injuries. He was then allowed to go to his hotel. No charges have been laid.

11/02/1940 Ottawa Citizen Alexandria Alexandria

Uncoupled caboose struck truck after train had passed Alexandria Nov. 1.

To be hit by a train because of a disregard for the danger signals is not uncommon fate, but to be hit by the caboose of a freight train after waiting until the train has passed and the wig-wag safety signal had stopped and the crossing was clear, is, from the point of view of two men who underwent this experience here this evening, an injustice.

At 8.15 tonight a truck owned by Shepherd Brothers of Alexandria and occupied by Paul Dorey, driver, and Eli David, merchant, was entering the town on Highway 34. The wig-wag signal at the railway crossing was operating; the truck stopped. A long freight passed and the signal ceased. Just as the front part of the truck was crossing the track it was struck by the caboose of the train which had become uncoupled and was travelling about 800 feet behind the rest of the train.

Neither man was hurt. When the railway crew, after stopping a short distance east of the town, backed up the train to retrieve the "wandering van" they found the caboose undamaged. The truck, however, was damaged considerably.

C.N.R. Given Permission To Abandon Line

Judgement of the Board of Transport Commissioners has been issued granting the application of the Canadian National Railway for leave to abandon the operation of a portion of the Renfrew sub-division, between Arnprior and Eganville, 37.91 miles.

This application followed a joint co-operative report of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways, the whole matter being heard before the interested parties at Renfrew November 28th, 1939. The territory referred to is served by both the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways with the two paralleling lines but a few miles apart.

Commissioner F. M. MacPherson in his judgement, concurred in by the Assistant Chief Commissioner Wardrop and Commissioner Stone, finds there has been a decrease in the traffic on the Canadian National line during the past number of years indicating increased use of either cars or bus service. The judgment also points out that there will be a joint yearly saving of $104,000 to the railways, with little inconvenience to those whom the line services.

It was learned that at present there is one train each way over the line daily. This is on the run from Ottawa to Barry's Bay each morning, returning in the afternoon.

C.N.R. Case Before Privy Council On June 21

Chown & Chown have received advice that the municipalities which are joining in the appeal against the decision of the Board of Transport in granting the application of the Canadian National Railways for the abandonment of the line from Arnprior to Eganville, have received word from the Clerk of the Privy Council that the appeal will be heard in Ottawa on June 21.

The Dominion Privy Council is the final Court of Appeal, says the Renfrew Mercury, so the question as to whether the line is to be abandoned or not will be decided on June 21, when both the railway Co. and those opposing the abandonment through Dr. McCann and S. M. Chown, counsel for the municipalities, will have an opportunity of presenting their respective arguments.

24/06/1940 Ottawa Journal Smiths Falls Woodroffe

Alarmed By Picnic Train

A breathless woman called the Provincial Police office in Ottawa Saturday.

"There's been a train wreck at Woodroffe" she said. "Two cars are off the track. A derailment."

"Anybody hurt?"

"No. I don't think so, but two cars are off the track."

Police sped toward the scene, and so did reporters, and when they got there they looked, in vain for any sign of a wreck. True two cars were off the track - off the main track that is. But they were standing calmly on a sidetrack awaiting the return of a party of picnickers they had transported to Woodroffe for the day.

14/09/1940 Ottawa CitizenKingston (CP)

Kingston Sept 13. A mixed freight train was derailed and ripped up more than 100 yards of track at Jackson Mills today. No one was injured but the Kingston - Pembroke line of the Canadian Pacific Railway was tied up for the day. The accident apparently was caused by a wheel dropping off a car in the center of the train.

15/11/1940 Ottawa JournalNew York CentralOttawa

Propose change to N.Y. Central service.

Arrangements to be made to discontinue passenger trains from Union station and make alterations to present freight station at the southerly end of Nicholas street. Arrangements made with OER to divert its Templeton street busses so as to connect with incoming and outgoing trains.

For one train a day except Sundays NYC pays CNR a fixed sum of $900 of which $800 is for use of the station and $100 is for the ticket office. There were also charges for other services amounting to about $250 a month and all these could be provided at the new station.

With the proposed changes the loss would be comparatively small.

The last paragraph says that the station that will be used was the one that the O&NY originally used in Ottawa - this is not true as they used Sussex Street.

Well-known City View dairy farmer meets death when New York Central train strikes his car at level crossing half a mile from Hurdman's Bridge. Ralph Henry, aged 66 years, prominent City View dairy farmer, was instantly killed at 11.40 Saturday morning when the automobile he was driving was struck by a New York Central passenger train on a Russell road level crossing about half a mile from Hurdman's bridge at the outskirts of the city. Mr. Henry was driving out from Ottawa to deliver eggs. The car was hit on the side and carried in front of the train for approximately 370 yards. A 1937 sedan, it was almost completely wrecked. The N.Y.C. train was traveling from Helena, N.Y., at a speed of about 40 to 45 miles an hour. The accident occurred within a short distance of the fatality in March of this year in which John Anderson and his son, of Hurdman's Bridge were killed in a similar accident. A network of railway tracks converge on the capital at this point, and there are a score or so of level crossings on the Russell road and side roads.

Jammed against engine.

Train crew members and section hands in the vicinity worked frantically to extricate Mr. Henry from the car after the train was brought to a stop. An ambulance from Hulse and Playfair Ltd., was called and the train was backed up to the crossing and the body was taken to the undertaking parlors, 315, McLeod street. Crowbars and other tools were necessary to move the car from the front of the engine where it was solidly jammed. The cow catcher was completely torn off.

Clear view.

Several theories were advanced, but none definitely established the cause of the crash. The level crossing in question gives a clear view on both sides. The train tracks curve in a broad sweep, but there is no obstruction of view in travelling from Ottawa. However, the ice on the road had been washed smooth by the recent rain and a quick stop was impossible. There is a very slight incline down to the tracks on either side.

It is not known whether Mr. Henry had seen the train and applied the brakes in an effort to stop or not. No skid marks were visible, but it is quite possible they would not show on the ice.

The car was crushed sideways like an accordion but remained intact while being carried down the track. The side Mr. Henry was sitting on was the least damaged.

The only known eye-witness, an aged Hurdman Bridge resident, said he was on his way home when he heard a "tremendous crash". He looked around and saw the train brakes screeching carrying the car down the right-of-way. He did not see the actual collision.

The accident held up three other trains for an hour and a half, including a New York Central special bringing trainees back home from the Cornwall military training center and the C.N.R. and C.P.R. trains from Montreal. The NYC special was held up at Hawthorne.

Constable James B. Driscoll of the Ontario provincial police investigated.

The locomotive was in charge of Dugald Cameron, 83 Concord avenue, engineer, and P. Schult, 262 Russell avenue, fireman. Schult said that on either side of the crossing there is a clear view of the railway right of way.

Mr. Henry was driving slowly and carefully in approaching the crossing, and the trainmen figured that he was going to stop. The car was going south along the Russell road at a rate of from 10 to 15 miles an hour. The train's speed was reckoned to be between 40 and 50 miles an hour.

Mr. Henry did not stop. Either his brakes were ineffective on the icy roadway, or more likely, in the opinion of the train crew, he either did not see the train or hear its whistle. After the impact, the car was carried almost four hundred yards down the right -of-way.

Ralph Henry killed by train at level crossing on Russell Road, one mile beyond city limits.

Picture of the vehicle but no railway interest.

Train was No. 61 from Helena travelling at 43 mph.

Following No. 61 was a NYC special returning the Ottawa recruits from the 30 day military training at Cornwall. The crew of the special took the damaged locomotive from 61 back to Watertown for repair.

Alton Beckett Killed as Train Hits Sleigh.

Alton Beckett, 58, of 170 Drummond street, farm hand in the employ of Thomas E. Nesbitt, City View, was killed instantly at 11.40 a.m. on Tuesday when a horse-drawn sleigh he was driving was struck by an eastbound C.N.R. transcontinental train on a side road off the Merivale road at City View. The train was travelling at about 60 miles an hour at the time of the accident.

The body was taken to the parlors of Hulse and Playfair Limited, 315 McLeod street, where an inquest was opened last night by Dr. J.S. Nelson, coroner, of Westboro. The inquest was adjourned until January 3 and will be held at Nepean town hall, Westboro.

Mr. Beckett, who had only been working on the Nesbitt farm for about six weeks, was making his daily trip across the C.N.R. main line when his sleigh was struck by the fast-moving train. He was wearing a cap with earflaps on it which is believed to have deadened the sound of the approaching train. The sleigh was reduced to matchwood and the unfortunate man was struck with terrific violence. His mangled body was caught in the front part of the engine and carried more than 1,200 feet before the train could be brought to a stop. He suffered multiple fractures of the skull and not a bone on his left side was unbroken.

Horses Escape.

Two horses which were pulling the sleigh had a remarkable escape. They had crossed the tracks when the sleigh was struck. One of them suffered a slight cut while the other was unhurt. The frightened animals broke loose when the sleigh was struck and stampeded into the yard at the Nesbitt farm. Their return to the farm was the first warning the Nesbitt household had of the accident.

Three C.N.R. section men, James McLean, Raymond Bernie and Charles Giroux, were working about a mile east on the railway tracks at the time. They heard the crash and ran to the scene of the accident.

The body was released from the front of the engine by the train crew and later taken to the parlors of Hulse and Playfair, Ltd., after it had been viewed by the district coroner. The train was not long delayed and had proceeded on its way to Union station when the coroner and police arrived. Provincial Constable Thomas Hazlitt investigated.
