Mel. Slater Goes

Is to Play Hockey There During the Season of 1935-36

Mel. Slater, formerly of Arnprior, who played hockey, and good hockey in Brockville, Arnprior and Noranda in successive years is to play during the coming season in Atlantic City, having signed as defence man with the Atlantic City Sea Gulls in an United States group of teams. On Sunday his team is scheduled to play in New York.

He was with Brockville juniors, two years ago played with Arnprior seniors and last season was with the Smelter team in a northern Ontario league; there, too, during the summer he was with the Noranda softball team.

And now scores of friends, wherever he has played wish him well on his entrance into a sphere of hockeydom very close to the big time circuits.

Certain it is that the signal bell was ringing and just as certain is it that the whistle on the train was blown vigorously; so vigorously, in fact, that it was noticed it occurred, 4.30 o'clock, it is appropriately by several people who believed parent that the deceased girl, rethat the trainmen were making that the trainmen were making turning from school to her home, more than the usual clamor in an endeavor to be certain that the girl would be warned.

Speed of the train is a matter of conjecture and to The Chronicle various people have estimated that speed at several figures varying from 15 to 30 miles per hour; some have stated that the train was slowing down to come within the speed alleged to be permissable in crossing Daniel street.

Mr. Weldon Melanson, walking south on John street saw the girl, apparently on the track; as the train swept across the crossing, he surmised that she stepped to safety but the train cut off his view is she was on the south side; walking Rev. But as they up to the crossing he queried of spoke the train was seen to be slowing down rapidly to a stop and they surmised that something serious had happened. Mr. Melanson heard the signal bell ringing and his attention was attracted as the train approached the crossing by what he believed to be an unusually lengthy blowing of the

Turkeys Reached 23½ Cents Pound

At the Arnprior Poultry Fair, Tuesday, and Eight Tons Sold

Total turnover of poultry at the Amprior poultry fair on Tuesday was about eight tons, according to the secretary of the fair, Mr. about seven and a half tons went to various dealers and about half a ton to individual purchasers.

Last year the total turnover was about ten tons; but this year's smaller total put more money into the hands of the producers by reason of the higher prevailing prices. Turkeys, with a top price of 15 cents in 1934, sold from 20 to 231/2 cents this year; chickens were up to 16 cents last year and ranged from 20 to 22 cents this year. A number of ducks sold this year at 17 and 18 cents and geese, of which only a very few were offered, sold at 16 cents.

Top price for turkeys, 23½ cents was paid by Buckham and Vance when they acquired the entire load of 72 turkeys brought in by Mr. Leo Legris of Clay Bank.

Exceptionally mild weather facilitated the merchandising which concluded about mid-afternoon but was a deterrent in that it caused some producers to refrain from coming to town.

The late Mr. Gahan, whose birthday was close to the natal day of Ireland's patron saint, was always interested in the manner in which the name Patrick entered into so many phases of his life; his name was Patrick; that, too, was his father's name and the name of one of his sons; the priest who officiated at his baptism and his godfather were both named Patrick; the baptism was in St. Patrick's church; the name, Patrick, was incorporated in the name of the village of his birth and in other matters that same name came to the fore. The funeral was on Wednesday, Dec. 11th, from deceased's late home in Braeside to St. John Chrysostom church, Arnprior, and interment was in St. John Chrysostom cemetery.
